I'm here with you. What's going on today—do you want to talk about what happened, or just have some company and chat? If it's easier, you can answer one of these: - What's been weighing on you the most lately? - Did something specific happen today? - Are you feeling more sad, anxious, stressed, or just numb? And before we go further: are you feeling safe right now, or are you having thoughts of hurting yourself?
